This reflection is due Monday, September 8th at the beginning of class. It will be graded for completion. It is only intended to take 10-20 minutes.

(1) Immanuel Kant's famous categorical imperative was originally written as follows: "Act only in accordance with that maxim through which you can at the same time will that it become a universal law." Write the categorical imperative in your own words, as if you were explaining it to a friend.

(2) Consider the rules, laws, duties, and/or obligations you follow on a daily basis. These may be rules from a class, a city, an employer, etc. Write down three of them.
